Call for Papers

General information

The conference welcomes contributions in the form of oral or poster presentations on group work, group assignments, learning in groups and group dynamics in higher education. The conference invites research and proven experience on e.g. organization on group work, different types of assignments and the assessments of group work, development of group dynamics, assessments of how students and teachers perceive group work and what is learned.

A submission form for abstracts is available here: Call for paper, form

Deadline for submission is April 7 2017!

The abstracts are limited to 400 words

Formats

Oral Presentation (30 min) or Poster

Review criteria

A proposal will be assessed according to what degree it:

• aims at improved teaching and student learning
• builds on and makes use of relevant literature and theory
• has a potential to sparkle conversations among the conference participants
• relates to the conference theme
• has a clear focus and structure